Well done, you turned off the water when you were brushing your teeth.

Move forward 5 spaces.

You took a shower that took less than 4 minutes. Great effort.

Move forward 5 spaces.

You made an effort to water the garden with the grey water coming from your washing machine when you can.

Move straight to the desalination plant.

When you last did your gardening, you used mulch to help increase water absorption and your soil's moisture content. Now you don't need to water your garden as often. Smart move.

Move forward 4 spaces.

You planted plants that are native to Australia and use minimal water. That is amazing!

Move forward 7 spaces.

Your family recently installed a dual-flush toilet. You can now save an incredible amount of water every year.

Move forward 4 spaces.

You catch your Dad washing vegetables with the tap running. You tell him he can save water by using a container or by using a plug in the sink. He uses a container to wash the vegetables. Well done.

Move forward 4 spaces.

You saved some water for the garden by using a bucket in the shower to collect the water wastage that comes from waiting until the water is warm enough to shower with. Good thinking!

Move forward 5 spaces.

You used a broom to sweep the driveway, instead of a hose. You make saving precious drinking water look easy!

Move forward 6 spaces.

You remember to scrape the food scraps off the plates before you put them in the dishwasher instead of using water to wash them off.

Move forward 5 spaces.

Your family saves money to buy a rainwater tank. Installing a rainwater tank is a great way to reduce your water use, saving our high-quality water supplies for drinking.

Move forward 7 spaces.

Your family chooses to buy a water efficient washing machine to do their bit to save more precious drinking water. Great decision.

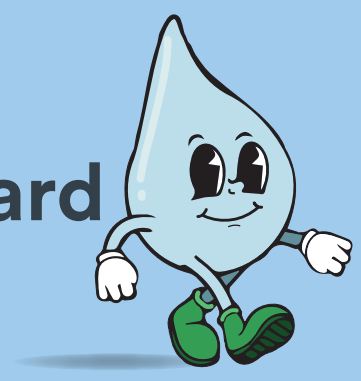
Move forward 5 spaces.

You use a bucket of soapy water to wash your family car and a few buckets of grey water to rinse the car instead of using the hose. What a great effort!

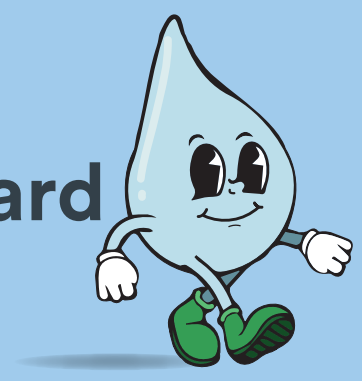
Move straight to the stormwater island.

Reward Cards

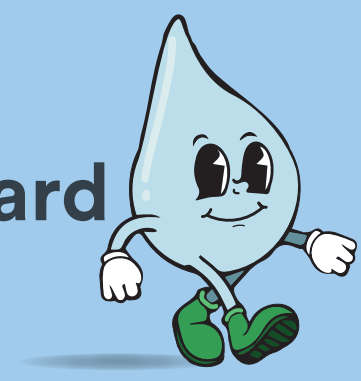
Reward



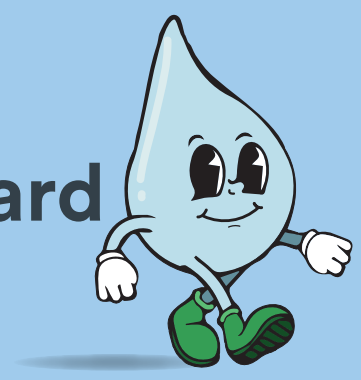
Reward



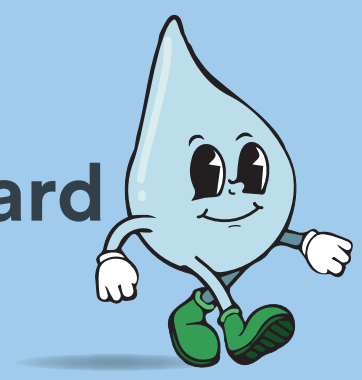
Reward



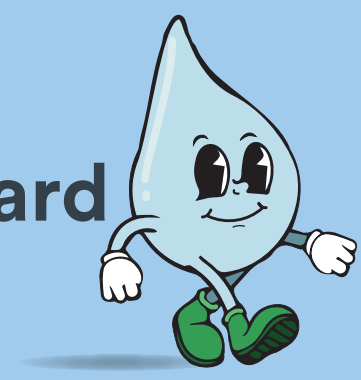
Reward



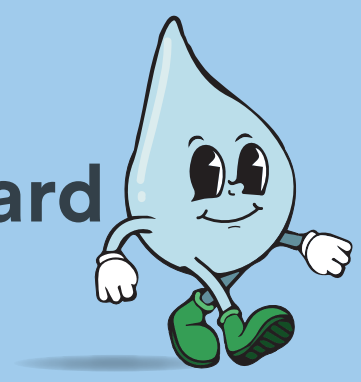
Reward



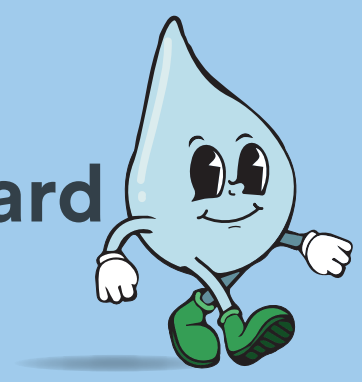
Reward



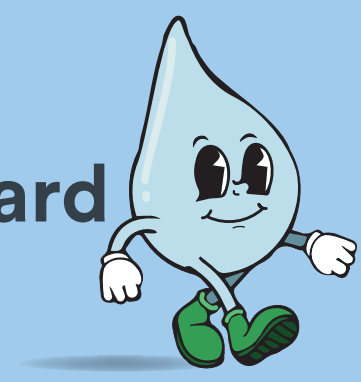
Reward



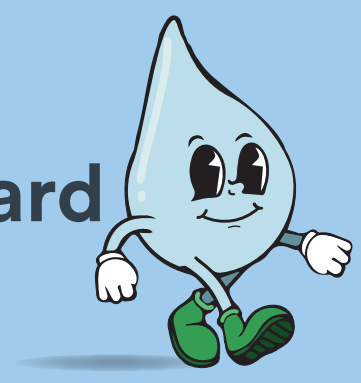
Reward



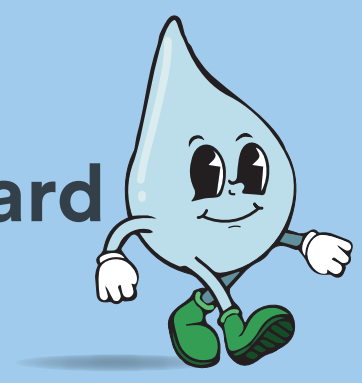
Reward



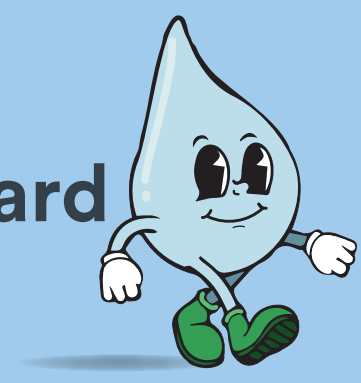
Reward



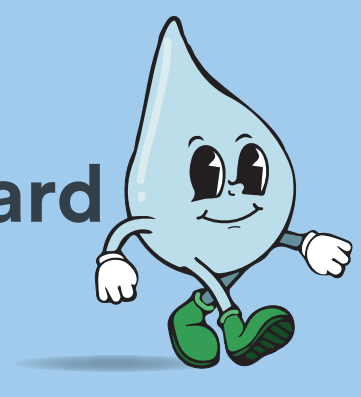
Reward



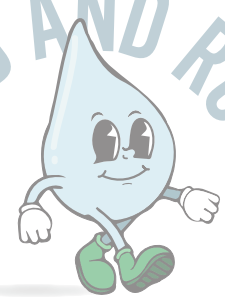
Reward



Reward



ROUND AND ROUND



THE WATER GOES